Pussycat, pussycat, Where have you been? I’ve been to London To visit the queen. Pussycat, pussycat, What did you there? I frightened a little mouse Under her chair.

Here’s a cup and here’s a cup And here’s a pot of tea Pour a cup and pour a cup And have some tea with me

Cup each hand for the cups. Then change one into a fist with thumb up for the teapot’s spout, and pour a cup of delicious tea.

Hector Protector was dressed all in green Hector Protector was sent to the queen The queen did not like him No more did the king So Hector Protector was sent home again

I’m a little teapot, short and stout Here is my handle, here is my spout When I get all steamed up then I shout “Tip me over, pour me out”

This is the key to the kingdom (Make fist with thumb sticking up) And this is the kingdom (Both arms stretched wide) And in the kingdom there is a town (Move hands in to form a large circle) And in the town there is a hill (Finger tips together to make hill) And on the hill there is a street (Walk fingers along arm) And on the street there is a house (Finger tips together to make pointed roof) And in the house there is a room (Make square with hands) And in the room there is a bed (Both hands open flat, side by side) And on the bed there is a basket (Cup hands together) And in the basket there is a blanket (Keep cupped, close thumbs over) And under the blanket there is a BABY! (Peek in under thumbs)

(Repeat (reverse) earlier actions) Baby under the blanket Blanket in the basket Basket on the bed Bed in the room Room in the house House on the street Street on the hill Hill in the town Town in the kingdom And this is the key to the kingdom

Oh, the grand Old Duke of York, He had ten thousand men. He marched them up to the top of the hill And he marched them down again. And when they were up they were up. And when they were down they were down. And when they were only half-way up, They were neither up nor down.

The elephant moves like this and like that He’s terribly big and he’s terribly fat He’s got no fingers, he’s got no toes But goodness gracious what a nose

Humpty Dumpty sat on a wall, Humpty Dumpty had a great fall. And all the King’s horses and all the King’s men Couldn’t put Humpty together again.

Along came the children with brushes and glue, And stuck Humpty together as good as new.
